STATE REPORT INFORMATION

Here is the link to the survey:

https://wsu.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_a5FRXM3KqPhIYNL

*It needs to be completed online no later than March 1st.

If you missed our webinar last month where we talked about the report, you'll find the recording of our webinar on our SharePoint site under "Webinars" (tab at the top of the page), then click on "Shared Documents," then open the folder "2016 Archived Webinars." It's way too big to send via email.

<https://sharepoint.cahnrs.wsu.edu/mgp/>

For help writing your impact statement (the last question on the report), attached you will find the:

1. 2015 State Report- I've highlighted two impact statements that are close to what I'm looking for on the survey.
2. 2015 CAHNRS Impact Report- Note the testimonial from the woman at the Women's Correction Center of WA. Testimonials are nice!
3. Impact report template in Word and PDF- Please use this to guide to write your statement.

*Please contact me if you need help with your impact statement. There is such great work going on in each of your counties, let's capture it!

2017 INTERNATIONAL IMGC INTERNATIONAL MASTER GARDENER CONFERENCE

Registration

Master Gardeners can get CE while attending.

July 10-14

Portland, OR

<http://blogs.oregonstate.edu/2017imgc/>

The deadline for the early registration discount ($50) for the 2017 IMGC is nearing. The last day for early registration is January 13th!!

A few notes about the conference:

- hotel rooms at our discount hotel (The Inn at the Convention Center) have already filled. Rooms at our two other hotels (DoubleTree Portland and Crowne Plaza) are filling quick. Please make your hotel reservation soon, to take advantage of these great summer rates for Portland. (Hotel information at <http://blogs.oregonstate.edu/2017imgc/lodging/>). <http://blogs.oregonstate.edu/2017imgc/lodging/>.
- two tours (Columbia Gorge and 3 Iconic Gardens) have already filled. One tour that is being a bit overlooked include 'Pines to Pruners' ($63 per person): Iseli's Nursery (<http://www.iselinursery.com/>) <http://www.iselinursery.com/> is renowned for their conifer displays, and Red Pig Tools (<http://www.redpigtools.com/>) <http://www.redpigtools.com/> is a place of pure artistry (I had the Blacksmith, Bob Denman, sign my tools . . . I love them so much. Another is 'History and Harvest to Table' ($173 per person): a must see for lovers of the farm to table movement. Meriwether's restaurant and Skyline Farms (<https://www.meriwethersnw.com/>) <https://www.meriwethersnw.com/> is the Pacific Northwest's version of Blue Hill at Stone Barns. It is one of a very select group of restaurants that is truly farm to table. This tour includes lunch at this world-renowned restaurant, a tour of Skyline Farms, and a visit to the owners' personal garden.
- several classes are performing extremely well (e.g. Lee Reich's 'Weedless Garden', Lucy Hardiman's 'Full Frontal Gardens', Harry Olsen's 'Better Vertical Gardening', among others). A few gems that seem to be overlooked by many include Amy Garrett's 'Dry Farming' and Alice Doyle's 'Gardening with Grafted Vegetables'. Amy is working with farmers in the Pacific Northwest to perfect the art of growing vegetables without any irrigation. After two summers of work, farmers are reporting great success growing a variety of crops as dry farmers. The tricks seem to be in understanding your soil type, controlling weeds, and getting your crops in at the right time of the year. Her work is truly revolutionary, and has great promise for home gardeners. Read more about Amy and her class at <http://blogs.oregonstate.edu/2017imgc/confirmed-speakers/amy-garrett/>. Alice Doyle is also a pioneer, being the first grower in the US to offer grafted vegetables to home gardeners. Read more about Alice and her class at <http://blogs.oregonstate.edu/2017imgc/confirmed-speakers/alice-doyle/>.

- our second gardening film festival movie is now 'Microcosmos' (hidden world of insects). Warner Brothers pulled public showing rights for 'Little Shop of Horrors', so we had to choose a replacement film. Learn more about our film festival at <http://blogs.oregonstate.edu/2017imgc/film-festival/>.

We hope that you'll join us at the 2017 IMG. And, if you can't join us, we hope that you'll help us spread the word. Come join the 531 folks who have registered already, to have a fun and educational week in beautiful Portland, Oregon. We're so excited to host you.

-Gail Langellotto (OSU State MG Program Coordinator)

ONLINE TRAINING INFORMATION

Attached are the instructions for registration for online training. Instructions are the same for each county and for each session of training. For instance, All Year trainers use the same instructions as Fall trainers.

The cost for the online training has increased to $75.

Quiz answers have been uploaded in the State Program SharePoint site.

An introduction video for students is also available on the SharePoint site.

Title: Growing Roses in Washington State: Common Disease and Insect Problems (Home Garden Series)

Authors: Marianne C. Ophardt; Sheila Gray

Abstract: Roses are arguably the most attractive flowering shrub in Washington and a favorite of home gardeners. To keep your roses looking beautiful and healthy, fending off disease and pests is important. This publication outlines the common disease and insect problems in Washington State, how to spot them, and corrective actions.

Title: A Guide to Washington State's Urban Tree Canopy.

Authors: Charles A. Brun, Regional Horticulture Specialist, Washington State University; Catherine Daniels, Pesticide Coordinator, Washington State University; Tim Kohlhauff, Urban Horticulture Extension Coordinator, Washington State University.

Abstract: More than 80% of the nation's population lives in urban areas. The urban tree canopy (UTC) is an essential part of an urban areas' infrastructure—an ecosystem characterized by trees and other vegetation in association with people and their developments. This publication outlines the many environmental benefits the UTC provides as well as recommendations for expanding it.
